As an honorary member of the Union, we had the pleasure of attending its regular meeting last Saturday night, while on a visit to the "Gate City." Thirty-four miles of the Southwestern Railroad are to be laid immediately with the Fish plate iron, placed on stringers laid on crossties. Travel is daily increasing. Drummers are beginning to arrive in abundance. They report trade dull throughout the South, on account of the expected short cotton crop.—Columbus Sun.

The City Fathers have developed the fact that Albany has two dogs to every citizen. Several negro women in Albany tied and whipped most severely last week a negro man, who calls himself Dr. Davis, and swindled them out of valuables, by calling himself a conjurer, and promising to cure all women of diseases. A fire occurred in Albany on Saturday on the premises of Dr. S. J. Robert, his stable was burned up, consuming two fine horses and young colt and two buggies and sets of harness. The cotton crop in various sections of Baker, Lee, Mitchell, Worth and Dougherty will be fearfully short. Albany News.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1871, 54,486,297 gallons of spirits, 223,307,156 gallons of beer, 10,700,000 gallons of ale and porter, or 288,496,453 gallons in the aggregate were consumed in the United States. Of these beverages there were consumed in the United Kingdom of Great Britain for the year 1869, 921,853,570 gallons. Much of the consumation in this country is used in the maufacture of chemicals. These figures show that the consumption of liquors in great Britain average nearly 30½ gallons per head of the population, and in this country about 5½.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Public Speaking at Dawsonville.

Editors Constitution: Col. J. N. Dorsey, elector for the Ninth District, and the Hon. George D. Rice, alternate elector for the State at large, addressed a large meeting of the citizens of Dawson county on the 10th instant.

Col. Dorsey occupied an hour in a clear and strong discussion of the relative merits of Greeley and Grant, and the principles of which they are the representatives and exponents. The effort was an able presentation of the claims of Greeley, and the demerits of Grant. Calmly but vigorously addressed to the reason and judgment of his audience.

Judge Rice followed him in a terse, earnest argument unmeasurable in its facts and logic, glowing with the ardor of patriotic enthusiasm. He was scathing in his exposure and denunciation of the corrupt rings that have plundered the State and decidedly happy in his commendation of that honesty and integrity which the Hon. James M. Smith, Democratic candidate, so happily illustrates. He closed with a stirring appeal to the people to secure an able and faithful administration of the State Government, and give a resistless impulse to the Greeley movement by giving an overwhelming majority to Smith.

These speeches were listened to with marked attention, and received with strong indorsement. Quite a number of Republicans are warm supporters of Greeley and Smith in this section of the State.

☞ The Boston Journal thinks the strangest example of a "stitch in time" is the custom which prevails among the Dutch families living in the Catskills, that of preparing their own grave clothes. They take great pride in fashioning them of the finest materials and making them up in the daintiest manner. If the owner lives long enough for them to become yellow with age they give place to new and fresh ones.

Foreign Religious Information.

The Free Church of England is an organization recently formed in that country of those Evangelicals who are too much opposed to Ritualism, its works to have any fellowship with a body like the Church of England, which recognizes and protects it.

☞ Sir Toby reports the case of a good little boy, whose parents encouraged the habit of early retiring by permitting him to take cake to bed with him. One evening he astonished his affectionate mother by the following prayer:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
Give sister Jane my piece of cake."

SOMETHING EXTRAORDINARY.

Reported Discovery of a Cave in Tennessee Containing Ice That Never Melts.

A letter from Linden, in Perry county, Tennessee, to a Waynesboro paper, in the same State, gives the following curious statements respecting the alleged discovery of a cave in Perry county, containing some most remarkable stone formations which would be of incalculable value were it not so late in the season, and cold weather imminent:

"Some ten days since, T. M. Brasher, Esq., our late representative from this county; Major J. L. Webb, our excellent Sheriff, and J. P. Wilson, our efficient Tax Collector, were together at Major Webb's and for recreation took a walk in and round his farm, when coming to the hills on the south of Major Webb's place they approached the mouth of a cave in the side of the hill, from which, in wet weather, a stream of water usually flowed. Feeling very warm they concluded to enter the cave to cool off a little, and upon entering were surprised at the unusual coldness that pervaded the cavern. Thinking there must be something in the dark recesses of the cavern to produce such unusual coldness in the atmosphere, they concluded to penetrate still further to see if they could not clear up the mystery.

Procuring lights, they entered the cave, and after proceeding some seventy-five feet, upon turning an angle, they beheld, to their astonishment, the whole interior of the cave festooned with the most beautiful stalagmites the eye of man ever beheld. Holding up their lights, they gazed upon the beautiful sight with pleased astonishment, and upon a nearer approach they found the stalagmites to resemble the hardest, clearest ice, and cold as the touch of the ice king himself. Becoming by this time chilled through with the coldness of the place, each of the gentlemen broke off a lump of this strange wonder, and started to return. Before reaching the mouth of the cavern, their hands were so chilled they could scarcely hold the strange substance, and upon reaching the outer air they laid it down upon the ground, thinking it would soon acquire the temperature of the atmosphere.

After resting fifteen or twenty minutes, they started for Mr. Webb's residence, each carrying, as best he might, his lump of rock ice, for I know of no other name by which to call it. Arriving at the house they placed the crystals on a table and waited patiently to see if it would melt or even turn warmer. After waiting some half hour and finding that it still retained its former coldness, one of the party suggested that they should try it in a pitcher of water. This was done, and to their infinite astonishment the glass pitcher in which it was placed was soon covered on the outside with moisture similar to that produced by ice. Not being yet satisfied, they concluded to drink of its contents, and the question now was as to who should give the first trial. Mr. Wilson at length said as he was the youngest, and consequently the stoutest, he would try it, and he thereupon drank a hearty draught, and declared it equal to the best ice water. The other two gentlemen also drank of the water, and Mr. Brashear assured the writer of this that it was equal to the best ice water.

At dinner they tried it in milk, and it soon made Mrs. Webb's excellent butter-milk as cold almost as ice itself. It produced the same effect upon butter as ice, and still retained its original frigidity. A number of persons have since visited this wonderful cave and carried off portions of this rock, which they are using for all the purposes of ice, and it sustains no diminution in bulk or loss of coldness. Strange and improbable as all this may seem, yet it can be certified to by numbers of our best citizens. Dr. Bl ck is using it in his practice. Mr. Thomas French and Colonel Waggoner, hotel keepers in Linden, used it in their hotels during court week, to the astonishment of their guests. Specimens will be sent to our State geologist for analyzation. If any one doubts the above plain statement of facts, they are referred to Hon. T. M. Brashear, Hon. G. H. Nixon, John A. Pitts, Esq., Major John L. Webb, Joseph Wilson, Thomas French, Captain Easley, Professor in the Academy, and a number of others of the most reliable men in our country.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

The Same Percentage of Democratic Gain Will Elect Greely.

From the New York Tribune.

We have gained about four-and-a-half per cent. of the entire Republican vote in Maine. In the great central States all politicians know that our gains are sure to be far greater; but count them at only the same precise percentage. The Pennsylvania election in October, 1869, was carried for the Grant State ticket by 9,677 majority. A change of five thousand votes would have defeated Hartranft, then running for auditor-general. Five thousand votes are barely one and a half per cent. of the 331,416 Republican votes cast at that time. A change of less than one per cent. would have defeated Gov. Geary in 1869, his majority being only 4,596. In other words, with less than one-third the change in Pennsylvania which Monday's election shows in Maine, we shall sweep the Keystone State. Who doubts that the change will be greater, instead of less? The Indiana election in October, 1868, was carried by the Republicans by less than 100 majority for Governor Baker. A change of one third of one per cent. would have wiped out this majority. In 1870 the Democrats carried the State by 2,558 majority. In New York the last important election carried by the Republicans was in 1866, when Governor Fenton was elected by 13,789 majority over Hoffman. A change of less than two per cent. of the 166,65 votes cast for Fenton would have given the State to Hoffman. We do not pursue the examination in detail. The same percentage will give us Alabama, California and Connecticut, and these, added to the solid Democratic column, carry us triumphantly through. Liberal Republicans, let Maine be your inspiration. She shows that success is within your grasp.

A RATHER EARLY MARRIAGE.—In the Paris Court of Correctional Police recently, a lady, by no means young, advanced coquettishly to the witness stand to give her testimony.

"What is your name?"
"Virginie Loustatot."
"What is your age?"
"Twenty-five." (Exclamations of incredulity from the audience.)

The lady's evidence being taken, she regained her place, still coquettishly bridling, and the next witness was introduced. This was a full-grown young man.

"Your name?" said the Judge.
"Isadore Loustatot."
"Your age?"
"Twenty-seven years."
"Are you a relative of the last witness?"
"I am her son."
"Ah, well," murmured the magistrate, "your mother must have married very young."

☞ The very poetry of farming must be reached in cultivating the rose-farms of Puteaux, and the questioning of the overseer, as each Bulgarian boy and girl leaves the fields at night, must be very like those Mr. Churchill's poetical arithmetic would have propounded—if it had ever been published. How fanciful the replies must be: "A basketful of pink tea roses, five sacks of white rosettes, or an armful of straw-colored bengals." This year the vast fields are to be renewed and extended. At Adrianople alone they will cover about 14,000 acres, and the Paris perfumers will reap a rich harvest of fragrance, which will find its way over the seas and scatter itself in every direction.—Exchange.

☞ The consumption of animal ivory is something enormous. Sheffield alone would demand the killing of 20,000 elephants annually, were there no other sources of supply. One great source of late years is found in the tusks of mammoths, an extinct species of elephant, which lived in northern Siberia some two hundred thousand years ago, when that country enjoyed a temperature like that of the topics at the present day.

GEORGIA, Fulton County.

To the Superior Court of said county:

YOUR petitioner, Paul Jones, Senior, showeth that in due course of trade and for a valuable consideration, on the 19th day of December, 1871, by purchase from Jesse C. Kyle, he acquired title to a promissory note (here to the Court shown) for the sum of Eight Thousand Dollars, made by Amy H Sells, W A S Rondeau and P H Snook, payable to said Kyle, or bearer, dated February 13th, 1871, and due on or before the first day of January, 1872; and that at the same time he, by assignment from the said Kyle, acquired title to a mortgage deed, (here also to the Court shown) executed by said Amy H. Sells to said Kyle and his assigns, to secure the payment of said note, and bearing even date therewith; which mortgage deed covers and embraces all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Atlanta, and being part of A J Orme's subdivision of block number one hundred and forty-six, in original lot number fifty-one, in the fourteenth district of originally Henry now Fulton county—said portion fronting north on East Harris street, one hundred and eighty-three feet and running back on Butler street two hundred and two feet, with all the rights, members and appurtenances to the said premises in anywise belonging.

Your petitioner avers that the condition of said mortgage deed is broken, that said note is wholly unpaid, and that the amount due thereon is eight thousand dollars, principal, besides lawful interest from maturity. He therefore prays that said mortgage may be foreclosed, and that the usual rule to that end be granted and served according to law.

L. E. BLECKLEY,
June 7, 1872. Petitioner's Attorney.

On filing the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the court that the said mortgagor, Amy H. Sells, pay into court on or before the first day of the next term, to-wit, the second Monday in October next, the principal, interest and cost, or show cause why the equity of redemption in and to the said mortgaged premises should not be forever barred and foreclosed; and that this rule be served as prescribed by law.

JONESBORO, GA., July 11, 1872.

Dr. H. Neeson, Atlanta, Ga.:

DEAR SIR: I followed up your treatment as directed for nearly a month, when I desisted. In about ten days or two weeks afterward my hearing returned, and now I hear about as well, quite as well, so far as I can tell, as I did before I lost the use of my left ear, in June, 1871. I feel that I am under obligations to you for your treatment, for I am relieved of a great deal of unpleasantness and inconvenience.

Fraternally yours,

Readers, Orators & Copy Books.

THE undersigned now own the plates of this POPULAR SERIES; and as they are the only Purely Southern School Books offered in the market, we submit that it is to the interest of Teachers to patronize them. Send for circulars of Special Terms to Teachers—VERY LIBERAL. Specimen copies sent free for examination.

Prof. Orr, the Superintendent of Education for Georgia, says of them:

Messrs. J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.—GENTLEMEN: I have given to the Sterling Series of School Books, which you have had the kindness to leave with me, such examination as the limited amount of leisure at my command has allowed. With several books of the series I was already familiar, having added greatly to the interest of several public exhibitions, while engaged in active school work, by selections from their pages. While there ought not to be anything offensively sectional in our school literature, I must be allowed to say that it is with feelings of both pleasure and pride that I find in the pages of these books so liberal a recognition of Southern talent. I am glad, too, to learn that their publication is to be transferred to our own State. Southern independence will be soonest achieved by producing, as far as possible, every necessary for the supply of all our wants, both material and mental, upon our own soil. I will only add that I would be pleased to see the books extensively used.

Respectfully yours,
GUSTAVUS J. ORR,
State School Commissioner.

Call for the State Democratic Executive Committee to Meet.

A full attendance is requested. Democratic papers please copy.

COL. I. W. AVERY, Secretary.

GRAND STATE MASS MEETING

By Authority of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

A great State mass meeting of the Democracy will be held in Atlanta on the 17th of September, 1872.

It will be a grand occasion. The following speakers of national fame are expected to make addresses:

GOVERNOR B. GRATZ BROWN, candidate for Vice President,

HON. D. W. VOORHEES, of Indiana.

HON. CARL SCHURZ, of Missouri; Gov. M. C. BUTLER, of South Carolina; Ex-Gov. ZEB. VANCE, of North Carolina, and other great public men.

The Democratic papers in the State are requested publish to this.

THOMAS HARDEMAN, JR.,
Chairman State Executive Committee.
I. W. AVERY, Secretary.

Ex-Governor Vance to Speak at the Mass Meeting.

We have received assurances that that most popular of Southern political orators, ex-Governor Z. B. Vance, of North Carolina, will be here to address our mass meeting on Tuesday, the 17th.

Governor Vance made a magnificent speech at the great peace jubilee at Louisville

A large, comfortable arbor is being erected back of James' Bank Block for the occasion.

☞ The letter of Dorothy Dobson from Gainesville will be found in our weekly.

Personal.

We had a pleasant call yesterday from Col. Harris, of Meriwether, the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Fourth District.

☞ Governor Jacob, of West Virginia, the newly elected Governor, has written a letter expressing adhesion to the Greeley movement.

Grant's Extravagance.

The actual expenses of Buchanan's administration, as stated in the report of 1860, were $59,848,474 72; expenditures of Grant's administration in 1871, including interests on the public debt, premium on bonds and pensions, $123,149,422 70.

This would make the expenditure of Buchanan on a population of 31,443,320 in 1860 $1 94 per capita, and of Grant on a population 38,555,983 in 1871, $3 21 per capita, or nearly three-fourths more.

Bishop Early.

This distinguished divine of the Methodist Church, South, having attained a green old age, is growing very feeble at his home in Virginia, and will evidently soon pass from a world that has been exceedingly blessed by his labors. A candidate for the ministry was recently ordained by the venerable Bishop, who was able to do little more than place his hands upon the minister's head and bless him. The occasion was most solemn and affecting.

☞ Frederick Douglass, the negro, is now running at the head of the Grant electoral ticket in New York. In 1856, according to the Troy Press, he made a speech, from which the following is an extract:

"From this time forth I consecrate the labors of my life to the dissolution of the Union; and I care not whether the bolt that rends it shall come from heaven or from hell."

And yet the Radicals of the Empire State are willing to recognize him as their standard bearer, and are going up to the polls in November next to vote for the author of such an atrocious sentiment.

Carl Schurz.

Schurz is putting in powerful licks for Greeley. He draws tremendous crowds wherever he is announced to speak. In Cincinnati the other night he thus closed:

"The speaker then referred to the corruption caused by these sixty-four thousand minions of the administration—the office-holders—not one of whom dared to call his soul his own, or hold up his head independently, because if he did it would surely be chopped off, [laughter;] and the espionage exercised by this army of officers, he claimed, inflicted a tyranny on the North as odious as that of the South.

He had met in Indiana and Illinois many distillers and dealers in tobacco, who had declared to him that they sympathized with the Liberal movement, but did not dare to avow their sentiments on account of this espionage and the persecution of these officers, which would be sure to follow.

The speaker finally spoke of the Cincinnati movement, and admitted that he had been disappointed, that Greeley had not been his choice, as he knew very well it had not been of the tremendous crowd before him, but he appealed to his hearers whether, in the light of the past history of Grant and Greeley, the election of the latter would not rescue the country from tyranny and corruption. [Cries of "Yes," and "we will elect him."]

Cotton.

The receipts this week are 30,000 bales—17,000 more than last year, and 12,000 more than two years since. It is likely the receipts for next week will be over 50,000 bales, compared with 20,000 last year, and 38,000 the year before; and the receipts at the interio towns 16,000 bales, compared with 6,000 last year, and 14,000 the year before.

The weather this week has been fitful. One day the thermometer stood at 94 at noon, indicating as extreme heat as any day during the summer. Four days have been clear and hot, with a light thunder shower one day, one day cloudy and a good rain fall, and two days clear and cool—the thermometer averaging 84 degrees at noon during the week. For next week we expect generally pleasant weather. It is likely, as much cotton will be picked next week as any one week of the whole year.

This week the price of cotton has fallen one cent a pound in New York, and one-quarter of a penny in Liverpool, equal to half a cent and it is likely that New York will decline faster than Liverpool until the price comes near enough together to allow exporters to buy. Middling cotton is not worth over 20 cent in New York to-day, and without Liverpool advances the price will settle down to that point very soon. There has not been so good a fall, and so early a crop as this, since the war; and we expect the receipts of cotton for two months to be fully 500,000 bales; and if we escape September storms, they will be 550,000 bales. The receipts for the past years, same time, amounted to 209,000, 188,000, 319,000, 445,000, 437,000, 363,000. Suppose our figures, or near them, come true, what effect will it have on Liverpool.

Many of our friends say the crop will be three and a half millions, possibly more. We think it looks now like the above figures would be correct, and the cotton men in Liverpool and Manchester, who will buy more than half of our cotton, may believe in a four million crop by November; and if they do will they pay present prices for it? But present appearances are often deceitful and we see no reason to change our estimate made last week. The way Manchester spinners are buying American cotton just now does not look like they were afraid of a short supply for this fall. They have bought only 18,000 bales this week, and the supply for two months to come is now, on hand and in prospect, 43,000 bales per week, so there is no chance for the bulls to squeeze the spinners this fall.

Many persons are buying contract and spot cotton too, believing that planters will very soon stop delivering their crops at present prices; we believe that all such persons will find, when it is too late, that they did not know what planters believed was to their best interests. One hundred dollars a bale, or even seventy-five dollars a bale, is a large price for cotton, and we would suggest to our country friends to sell all their cotton, that they intend to sell, before Christmas, as soon as they can have it picked, ginned and packed. They will save loss in weight, (three dollars a bale,) interest on their money, and the risk of having some enemy burn it, and, possibly, two cents a pound in the price. To those persons who expect very high prices this fall, because the price kept up so well last fall—and the growing crop may be no larger than last—we will say: Last fall buyers and spinners believed that, as the former crop of nearly four and a half millions was hardly enough, that a crop of one million less would create a famine; now they find that with a crop of nearly one and a half millions less—to use the words of one of our best friends—"there is enough for spinning purposes."

Some of our friends have asked us when the price would be lowest. Our answer is, water usually runs down hill until all the low places are filled, and the supply is partly exhausted, then we have seen it run up stream for awhile. The great fault of most writers on any subject is, they let their interest warp their judgment. We intend to write what we believe to be fact, even if it does conflict with our interest. We hear a great deal about damage to the crop from rust, and different reasons given as the cause. We never saw any rust on cotton. What injures it is blight, a partial paralysis or premature decay, always caused by want of sufficient moisture to keep up the present growth of the plant. This is always the cause of what planters call rust. When the summer has been dry, there is not so much danger from blight, but after a long drought planters will find the cotton plant on light sandy lands, and on some poor, stiff lands, wilting in the heat of the day; and soon the leaves turn red, and the squares and young bolls put on a yellow, sickly hue, and both fall off the stalk. This occurs usually in August and September and after a continued drought. But when rain is plentiful, as it has been this year in July, and the plant runs up to weed, and you can almost see it grow; the blight comes on suddenly, if a very hot sun follows cloudy and rainy weather; often the most flattering prospects are blighted in two weeks. After a long continued dry summer, but with moisture is needed to keep up the vitality; but after continued rain, as we had this year in July, it requires rain every week to keep up sufficient moisture to prevent this plant from putting on the sear and yellow leaf of autumn, which is always a sign of decrease of vitality. Our readers will recollect that on July 6th and 13th, and again on the 27th, we called their attention to the possibility of damage to the crops from excessive moisture at that time, but few believed us, as they said the rain was just what they needed. To those of our friends who are looking for an active and higher market to sell their cotton, we will say that if Liverpool is dull and lower with small sales this week that market may be more active with larger sales next weeks and we see no reason why the price should go below 9¼ pence for some time to come.

☞ Colonel I. W. Avery, the talented editor of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, has declined a nomination for Congress in that district. Whilst the names of many gentlemen of eminence and exalted worth have been mentioned as his competitors, we feel sure none of them could more acceptably serve the people. His facile pen has done more to break down Radicalism in Georgia than any other.—Chattooga Advertiser.

Ben Hill.

Mr. Hill seems to have made a sensation at the Louisville Greeley Reunion. Whatever may be said of Mr. Hill his marvellous preeminence as an orator is undisputed. His gift of eloquence is wonderful. The Louisville Ledger thus speaks of him.

It has seldom fallen to the lot of a stranger to make such an impression upon a people as Mr. Hill has upon the people of Louisville. His audience yesterday was carried away with enthusiasm at his burning eloquence. It is said that few men have the power such as he has to move the sympathies and work upon the feelings of men. Men who have grown old in their study of oratory say that this noble representative of Georgia manhood and Georgia talent is one of the most gifted and impressive speakers that his age has produced.

Dr. Miller's Speech.

The speech of Dr. Miller on Friday night is pronounced by those who heard it, one of the finest efforts of the campaign. Many are requesting him to re-deliver it at the mass meeting on the 17th.

The Champion Swimmer.

Now comes a candidate for honor and fame as a champion swimmer, in the person of Mr. J. B. Johnson, "the hero of London Bridge," who advertises in the London papers that he would swim on August 23d from England to France across the channel. The distance, owing to the currents, would be between thirty and forty miles. There is a tradition in England that three convicts once attempted to swim this distance, but that one was drowned, the second died on reaching the shore, and the third only survived. At the time appointed Johnson was promptly at his post. He is twenty-four years of age, of medium height, and a finely built, muscular young fellow, measuring no less than forty-five inches around the chest. He entered the sea at Dover at about 11 o'clock.

"Striking out to sea with vigorous strokes, he accomplished the first two miles in thirty minutes. The wind was moderate from east-northeast; a strong tide was also running, with a short chopping sea. At 11:20 he partook of port wine, and again at 11:30 refreshed himself. At 11:45 he approached the steamer and requested something to eat, asking whether he might come on board. Mr. Strange seeing that in consequence of the strong tide, his chance of reaching the French coast was quite hopeless, thought it advisable to allow him to do so. When assisted on deck it was found that his legs, from his thighs downwards, were numbed; the circulation of the blood seemed to have almost stopped—in fact, the cold had so thoroughly mastered the system that he was unable to raise a basin of beef tea to his lips."

It was the general opinion that his strength as a swimmer would have enabled him to accomplish the distance, but for the impossibility of keeping up the circulation of the chilled blood for so long a period. The undertaking was certainly something novel.

Georgia Campaign Notes.

The Whitfield Democracy has nominated Jackson Rogers for the Legislature—a man of sterling integrity.

The Clarke Democracy has nominated Captain H. H. Carlton and Dr. Frank Jackson for Representatives—two excellent gentlemen.

Habersham county pushes Garnett McMillan for Congress.

The Radical ticket for City Council of Cartersville is A. T. Akerman and eight negroes.

Captain R. M. Willis and Dr. C. C. Leitner are nominated in Talbot for legislators.

Dr. T. Jones, a patriotic Straight of Albany, comes out for Greeley, and thus writes to the News:

It is high time that internal dissentions, bickerings, criminations, recriminations, intemperate and angry discussions of abstract Democratic principles, should, among Democrats, cease.

The Greeley club in Albany is working finely.

Mr. John C. Dell has been renominated for the Legislature in Screven county. A good man.

A resolution was offered in the Congressional nominating convention of the Eighth District to make no choice between Greeley and Grant and was laid on the table.

Gen. Eli Warren thus writes to Herbert Fielder:

I confess to you, that I have had much sympathy with these Staights, etc. For to take Greeley was by no means satisfactory to me at first. I now though take him cheerfully, because I greatly prefer him with the company he keeps to Grant and the company he keeps, and because too, our highest party tribunals, State and National, if I may so express it, recommended the support of Greeley and Brown. But the time has come, with political developments with it, when I think all Democrats should unite in carrying out the wishes of our party, expressed so fully, and so emphatically, and with such unanimity, too—by our conventions both State and National. And I do not think there is one in a thousand, I hope not in ten thousand, of our friends, but what will, by November next, deem it his patriotic duty to vote for Greeley and Brown. I will, therefore, cheerfully do it.

There is dissatisfaction in Wilkes over the legislative nominations. Stand to the result, friends, and do better next time.

The LaGrange Reporter thus pointedly puts the issue before Democrats:

"There stands out the bold, irrefragable fact that the success of the Liberal Republican ticket portends more good to the country than that of Grant's, and thus presents the further fact that he (Greeley) is the less of the two evils, and that it is best for all that he should succeed over Grant.

"All hope of a successful Democratic candidate has vanished."

Hyacynthe's Marriage.

The marriage of the famous Father Hyacynthe, a priest of the Catholic Church, against the rules of the church, has created wide comment. We are disposed to think that obedience to the rules of an organization of any kind, is due while one remains a member. Hyacynthe has felt compelled to defend his act. He does it as follows:

"If I had left my convent for the purpose of marrying, which was not the case, I would not hesitate to admit it, for I should have done nothing which could not be openly avowed before those who place the natural laws of God, with its inalienable rights and duties, above human laws, and especially above conventional engagement. Unswervingly faithful to the principles of the Catholic Church, I feel myself in no manner bound by its abuses. I intend to remain a Catholic and a priest. My marriage has no connection with any religious connection I owe to the rule of religion. Celibacy has some of the most exquisite joys, some of the most profound and decisive experiences of my existence. From the age 18, when I chose it, I have observed it with a fidelity for which I give glory to God. If now, at the age of forty-five, in the calmness as well as the maturity of my judgement, of my heart, of my conscience, in a word, of my whole being, I believe myself bound to renounce it, it is that marriage comes home to me as one of those laws of the moral government of the word which cannot be set aside without overturning the fabric of life and running counter to the will of God. I believe that celibacy may be a holy and glorious exception. I only say that this law presents itself unmistakably to me. When a man has received in his heart another exception, no less rare, holy and glorious, that pure and lofty love in which the world does not believe, because it is not worthy of it, such a man, be he priest or monk, has absolute proof that he is not of the number of those self-dedicated victims of whom the Gospel speaks. Such a man am I, and here once more I give gloy to God for what he has brought to me."

☞ Charles Erskine was, at the age of twenty, a teacher of Latin in the Edinburg University. On one occasion, after his elevation to the bench, a young lawyer, in arguing a case before him, used a false Latin quantity; whereupon his lord ship said, with a good-natured smile, "Are you sure, sir, you are correct in your quantity there?" The young counsel was nettled at the querry and retorted, petulantly, "My lord, I never was a schoolmaster." "No," replied the judge; nor, I think, a scholar either."

General Campaign Notes.

A report is in circulation in the interior of New York that Mr. Greeley is in favor of introducing small pox into the public schools; also, that he was a Confederate General during the war, and surrendered to Grant at Appomatox.

Two Greeley and Brown flags have been raised in Shirley village, Massachusetts, the first anti-Radical flags that have ever floated here.

Judge Joseph R. Flanders, who was one of the foremost in the Kentucky movement, in conversation with a reporter, repudiated the whole scheme. He said it was plain the whole gathering was under the direction of the administration.

The papers thus speak of the Louisville peace jubilee: "To-night has been one of the grandest turn-outs ever known in Louisville. There was a procession of white coats three miles long; the sidewalks along the route of procession was densely crowded with people. The houses were all illuminated; sky-rockets filled the heavens, and the city was ablaze with whole-hearted enthusiasm. It is one grand hosanna to peace returned. It is a grand halleluiah to the fact which was signified in the nomination of old Horace Greeley, the capstone of the two semi-arches of the country. This has been a glorious day in the history of the country, and an honor to the honesty and magnanimity of the American people. It is unmistakably a manifestation of the desire for peace in fact and peace in surety. The grand jubilee to-morrow will be even grander than to-day. People are crowding from all directions, and every hotel and boarding house in the city are crowded to the utmost. It has been an hour since the procession disbanded, but at this writing people in white coats and hats and great blazing torches are going about the streets, yelling themselves hoarse. The city has never before been so wild with such seeming uncontrolable joy.

The Terre Haute Journal, the only Straight-Out organ in Indiana opposed Greeley as long as there was a hope of supporting a strict Democratic nominee; but it now announces that, while it will continue to oppose Grant, it will make no further opposition to Greeley. It says:

"We shall make no further warfare on the Greeley ticket. If he can be elected, and the good of the country is to be subserved thereby, we shall hail the event as earnestly as any other person who desires good government and the safety and glory of the country, and who has no selfish or office-seeking interest in the result.

"Democrats who read the Journal will readily understand our meaning. We are left adrift by the failure to have a Democratic Presidential ticket. None of us can or will support Grant. Whether or not to vote for Greeley every man must determine for himself, but our judgment should be taken carefully and considerately in view of surrounding circumstances."

General Schurz returned home after a most brilliant canvass in Ohio. He is very enthusiastic in speaking of the prospects in that State. The Liberal-Democratic meetings have been extraordinarialy large and composed of men zealous in feeling and energetic in action. Senator Schurz expresses himself as greatly encouraged, and says the country will be not more surprised than gratified at the result of the election there.

Of the Grant Electors from Illinois in 1868 the following have declared for Greeley and Brown: Gustavus Koerner, James McCoy, Thomas G. Frost, Samuel C. Parks and John D. Strong.

"Yes," said Heinrich Heine, "one should forvige his enemies—but not before they are hanged." Morton, of Indiana, has evidently some such idea as this in regard to the Southern rebels.

The epitaph of the celebrated Boyle describes him as "father of chemistry and brother to the Earl of Cork." In like maner General Grant's admirer's may inscribe on his monument, "The saviors of his country, and brother-in-law to both the Dents."

When Stephen Pearl Andrews, the Pantarch, Harmonizer and Universologist, was asked sometime ago, why he didn't run for the Presidency, he replied, loftily, "It's too small game for me."

"Mr. Wilkes does squint," said the female admirer of John Wilkes, "but he squints no more than a gentleman and a man of honor ought to squint." In like manner Conkling thinks Grant is no more of a nepotist than a respectable man and a soldier who crushed the rebellion ought to be.

The list of Governors under the Grant policy of reconstruction alone should consign it to the infamy of history. Holden, impeached for usurpation and corruption, convicted by the votes of Republican Senators, and now the confidential organ-grinder of the administration at Washington; Scott, of South Carolina, with the plunder of a State in his hands, retiring to give way to Moses, whose record is pronounced still more disgraceful by Sawyer, the leading Republican Senator from his own State; Bullock, a fugitive from Georgia, whose bonds he had fraudulently issued and hypothecated to the amount of millions, to the Grant brokery king in New York; Reid of Florida, purchasing his acquittal from impeachment, by buying up a venal Legislature, with part of the funds he had pocketed; Clayton, Warmouth and Davis, of Texas, close the roll call, with reputations so tarnished that it would be wasting time to go further into detail.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The first grand ratification of the nomination of Greeley and Brown for President and Vice President, and Francis Kernan Governor of this State, by the United Democracy and Liberal Republicans of the metropolis is being held to-night.

It is the largest gathering of a similar character since the memorable demonstration in 1864.

It is safe to assume, however, that fully 5,000 people were gathered in Union Square at one time.

At 10:30 the various ward organizations marched through Fourteenth Street to Union Square, swelling the assembled crowds to nearly 100,000 persons.

At all the stands the crowds were large and enthusiastic. There were 25,000 Germans around the German stand.

The speakers were Francis Kernan, Gov. Banks, R. M. T. Hunter, Fernando Wood, ex-Judge Spencer, Chauncey M. Depew, Gov. Walker, of Virginia; S. S. Cox, Gov. Randolph, Jas. Brooks, Ethan Allen, etc,

THE PERCENTAGE OF RADICAL LOSSES.

The Grant men are trying desperately to believe the contest already settled in their favor, but in thruth their alarm is as vivid as ever, since the majority has fallen off eighty per cent. in North Carolina, twenty per cent. in Maine, and five per cent. in Vermont. If tendency settles the conflict, it will be Farmer Grant next year and President Greeley.

MONTGOMERY, September, 1872.

Editors Constitution: Hot! hot! The sun pouring down with all its vim, and no escape from the heat.

The Radicals had a grand pow-wow last night. They made the night hideous with their noise. They marched through several streets, to the music of a kettle-drum, and many hurrahs. They may have had other music, but it could not be heard in the confusion which reigned. I did not learn whether there were any speeches. I think it would have required a man with a pretty stout voice to have made himself understood.

The people are grieving over their worm eaten cotton crop. They will make more cotton anyway I think, than the planters of upper and middle Georgia, notwithstanding the havoc of the worms. The cotton fields have the appearance of ripe wheat fields. Not a trace of green is left by the worms. If the snowy fleece did not appear, at the distance of one hundred yards, you would pronounce it to be wheat.

Will not some scientific man put his wit to work to discover an extermination? The King of India a few years ago succeeded in averting the ravages of a worm similar to the cotton worm, by introducing into that country several thousand pairs of birds of the swallow species. The second year after their introduction, not a worm was to be seen. The government should investigate the subject, for what is everybody's business, is no body's business. A refreshing rain has at length appeared to cool the atmosphere, and to slake the dry earth. But I have trespassed long enough upon your time and patience.

Au revoir, UNCLE JOHNS.

P. S.—In my next I will tell you something about Sambo and his politics, etc.

Ninth Congressional District—Hon. H. P. Bell.

Editors Constitution: I would not disparage the claims, or depreciate the worth of any gentleman whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress, in the ninth district, but having long known the Hon. H. P. Bell, of Cumming, I beg permission to say that the Convention, soon to assemble in that district, will do the party and the country a signal service by placing the Democratic banner in his hands.

Col. Bell is a lawyer of acknowledged ability, demonstrated by an extensive and successful practice. He is a man of reading and culture, and thoroughly acquainted with the history and science of government. As a public speaker, he will not suffer in comparison with the best in the State. He served with fidelity and gallantry in the war for the rights of the South, and was severely wounded near Vicksburg, Mississippi. The effect of this wound will go with him to the grave. For one of his age, he has a legislative experience that is by no means inconsiderable.

Col. Bell has been a delegate to many of the most important conventions of the people, in all of which he took a prominent part. As a Senator from the counties of Cherokee, Forsyth and Milton, he showed himself able, faithful, true and efficient. He represented his district in the Confederate Congress, where he exhibited legislative ability of a high order, and made several speeches on important question, that won him applause and would have done credit to any member of that body. In 1868, as one of the Presidential Electors of the Democratic party, he canvassed his district with a gallantry that no Elector in the State surpassed. Does not all this give him claims upon the party?

In addition to the foregoing, Colonel Bell is one of our self-made men, and his character for moral uprightness, integrity and truth, none will question. He is an active, efficient and useful member of the Christian Church, ever lending the best energies of his head and heart to that which is good, and against that which is evil.

The nomination and election of such a man to Congress will honor the party, benefit the Commonwealth, and reward true merit.

The United States receive the gross sum of fifteen and one-half million dollars for losses resulting from acts of the Alabama, the Florida and the Shenandoah after leaving Melbourne.

Many delegates to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows passed north, including Judge McKinstry, of Alabama.

Probabilities.—The probabilities for the New England States are northerly winds, and clear and cool weather for Sunday for the Middle States. Generally clear weather with the winds gradually shifting easterly and southerly over the lower lake region, and for the Southern States east of the Mississippi, northerly and easterly winds and clear weather except along the South Atlantic coast, where partly cloudy weather will prevail from the Ohio Valley to Lake Erie and lower Michigan. Southerly to easterly winds and clear weather, with a diminishing pressure from Missouri to Lake Michigan, and northwestward, with fresh, brisk, southerly and easterly winds, and probably increasing cloudiness, with a diminishing pressure.

NEW YORK, September 14.—Judge Leonard to-day dismissed the writ of habeas corpus and remanded Forrester, the alleged Nathan murderer, to jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., September 14.—Four additional jurors were obtained to-day in the Fair murder case.

The Chinese Government appropriated one million dollars for their education. The design of the Chinese Government is to send thirty students to this country annually.

The election at Preston for member of Parliament resulted in the success of the Conservative candidate.

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, September 14.—The Court of Arbitration met at 12:30 o'clock this evening, the delay in the arrival of Sir Alexander Cockbun and Lord Tenderden having prevented its assembling at 12 o'clock, the usual hour. The five arbitrators, agents of the respective governments and their several counsel, twelve ladies and ten journalists were present. Count Sclopis, President of the Court, read the argument of the arbitrators concerning the decision of the tribunal, and announced that the sum awarded the United States to be $15,500,000 in gold. Alexander Cockburn refused to sign the decision of the Tribunal Court. Sclopis was applauded after he concluded. After the adjournment of the Court twenty-two guns were fired in honor of the closing of its labors. The English representatives leave Geneva Monday and the American Tuesday.

The sales for the week reached 121,873 bales, of which 111,150 were for future delivery and 10,723 on spot, to arrive and in transit, exporters took 3,106, spinners 6,869, speculators 424, and 324 were in transit.

Naval stores have declined.

It is reported that County Auditor Wilson left, at his death, a large book in his own hand, giving the details of the disposition made of the Tammany ring stealings, amounts and dates, payments and names of persons, to whom made. The book was secured by ex-Collector Connally, who, when he left the country, turned it over to a certain person who has it securely guarded. It is probable it will be produced on the trial of Tweed, Connally and others of the ring, and it is said it will secure the conviction of every one of the indicted parties.

The letter found in pieces before Billy Forrester's cell was written by detective Eagan who worked up the Nathan murder case to another detective in this city, who carelessly threw it away. Superintendent Kelso expresses himself as confident that Forrester is Nathan's murderer.

G. W. ADAIR, Auctioneer.
Peachtree Creek Farms!

PART OF THE LEWIS PROPERTY!

I WILL SELL at the City Hall, at 11 o'clock, A. M., on sale day, 1st Tuesday and 1st day of October, FIVE FARMS, as per plat.

Being the western portion of the celebrated Peachtree lands, formerly owned by Fielding Lewis, of Milledgeville. The property lies five miles northeast of Atlanta, one mile east from Richmond and Atlanta Air-Line Railway—at Mrs. Mason's Wood Station—and are in the fork of Peachtree and Pea-Vine Creeks—and they possess the site selected and bargained for by the Water-works Company, which fell through for want of some legislation about the water-works and city contract. These lands are the richest and most productive in this part of the State. I have recently been over them. The plat indicates the quantity of bottom; also of cleared land, which is well enclosed. None but cabin improvements on them.

The upland is gloriously timbered; covered with thousands of black walnut, some large enough for rail timber—ash, sumach, dog-wood, cucumber, grape vines, and all the native forest growths that indicate rich land.

No writing can do these lands justice. Get a plat and go out and see the growing crops.

Mr. Cheshire, on the premises, will show the lines.

Rev. George Macaulay, one of the Lewis heirs, is the owner, and instructs me to sell the lands upon their merits, without any reserve; he wants to convert these lands into a home in Atlanta.

Terms—One-half cash; balance in 12 months, with interest at 10 per cent.

Possession will be given as soon as the crops can be gathered. G. W. ADAIR,

This 17th day of June, 1872.

THE RIGHT TO

CURE STAMMERING

FOR SALE,
—BY—
Dr. N. A. Moses
Of Virginia.

The success of my method of curing Stammering being proved beyond controversy, and the art being copy-righted in the United States Courts for the District of Columbia, and the wide extent of territory over which my right extends, and the frequent calls which I have from distant sections, make it necessary for me to sell a portion of the territory, and I now offer the following States for sale, at the annexed prices. I can impart the Art to any one desirous of purchasing, and at a price that a great deal of money can be made out of it. Stammering is not confined to any section of country or condition of men, and there is nothing which a person will pay for more liberally than to be relieved from this most uncomfortable misfortune.

FULTON SUPERIOR COURT.—The dockets at the October term will be called in the following order: Common Law; Appeal; Equity; Claim; Illegality; Certiorari. The criminal docket will not be called until the third week of the term.

RUNAWAY.—A couple of mules, attached to a Whitehall street car, ranaway last night, and were not taken up until the car was carried across the railroad track at the foot of Whitehall street. No, body hurt.

SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—Dr. Van Norman's family and day school for young ladies and children will commence its sixteenth term on the 20th instant, at 17 West Forty-second street, New York. Send for catalogue.

PEACHTREE CREEK FARMS.—Colonel G. W. Adair will sell on the first Tuesday in October, at the City Hall, five farms, five miles northeast of Atlanta, in the fork of the Peachtree and Pea Vine Creeks, and one mile from the Air Line Railroad.

DOTS.—A medical journal chronicles the successful treatment of a man who was "seized with a child."

The general excuse of husbands who stay away from home until 2 o'clock in the morning is that they are out for Greeley.

> "Just hold your horses, will you?
> And do not drive so fast;
> Pray do not think your team, sir,
> Must run over people as they pass."

Why is that a majority of drivers in the city imagine that they must try and run over ladies and children (to say nothing of men) at the street crossings?

COMPLIMENTARY TO ONE OF OUR CITIZENS.—Judge [illegible] the Grand Jury at this place, passed quite a high compliment upon Solicitor General Glenn, remarking that Georgia afforded not a better or more efficient Solicitor.—Clayton Times.

FUN TRAVELING THIS WAY.—Our Albany exchanges came to hand yesterday with cuts representing fair females in various interesting gymnastic attitudes, flying steeds and bold trapeze performers, setting forth that the Great Eastern Circus will be there soon. So, little boys, look out; will be this way after a while.

SHADES OF FRAGRANCE.—Our people perhaps do not know that among the many industries of Atlanta the manufacture of delightful perfumery is an important one, steadily growing. The finest perfumes are made here that are fast eclipsing the celebrated ones of Labin in the South. Pemberton & Co. lead in this. They ship their perfumes all over the South.

It is a delightful industry.

THE funeral cortege, yesterday, attending the remains of the infant child of Captain John Keeley and wife to the Cemetery, was large and imposing. We can sympathize with the anguish-stricken and bereaved parents in their sad affliction. But in the hour of grief and sorrow comes the inspiring thought that their loved one is a child forever—

> "A flower
> Washed by the blood of Jesus from the stain
> Of native guilt, e'en in its early bud."

ATLANTA HEALING SPRING.—While in Atlanta, last week, in company with the members of the Press Association, we visited the excellent watering place now owned and being fitted up by Dr. N. L Angier, our worthy State Treasurer. The medical property of the water is very efficacious in many diseases, and the Doctor was induced to purchase the spring from the fact that the water had effected the cure of an invalid daughter of his who is now in robust health. He will have bath-rooms erected and every arrangement made for the accommodation of visitors.—LaGrange Reporter.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—The Grand Jury returned, yesterday, sixteen true bills. They commended the ability and promptness of the District Attorney, Colonel H. P. Farrow, in attending to the business of the court, his energy in ferreting out violations of the law and bringing offenders to justice. They disapprove the summoning and bringing here from great distances and at great expense, numerous witnesses to testify often-times in trivial cases and of matters of which they are frequently ignorant. The Grand Jury were discharged for the term. Thomas M. Self, P. G. Stroud, and Joseph Woldrup, were not guilty of illicit distillation. E. C. Shaw, charged with distillation was discharged from jail, no indictment having been found against him.

HON. W. L. GOLDSMITH has paid into the County Treasury of DeKalb county all over six dollars a day that he has received as a Representative from that county. He has also paid into the State Treasury $480 per diem he received as a member of the State Road Investigating Committee. If Mr. Goldsmith had given these amounts to some charitable institution or worthy objects he would have made more reputation. The State of Georgia and county of DeKalb are much more able to lose these amounts than he is.—Griffin News.

The Democracy of DeKalb instructed their Representative to pay into the Treasury of the county all he received over $6 per day. As the true, unswerving Democrat that he is, he obeyed the wishes of his party. Democracy never had a stronger or truer representative than Hon. W. L. Goldsmith.

SAMUEL R. HOYLE.—Editors Constitution: As the friends of General Walker have seen fit to furnish the public with a sketch of his military career, it might be supposed, from the silence of his opponents, that they are men who have lived always in the piping times of peace, and as Old Sir John Falstaff said of his regiment of ragamuffins, they are "such a commodity of warm slaves as had lief hear the devil as a drum." Such a supposition would do some of them great injustice. Mr Tatum and Mr. Stewart were as gallant soldiers as ever fronted a foe. The comrades in arms of Mr. Samuel R. Hoyle, knowing that he bore himself with unequalling valor through the late civil war, have urged upon him to furnish them with the prominent facts of his career during that bloody period. This he has wholly refused to do, thinking it in decidedly bad taste. But I, an old soldier—friend of his, one who has known him long and known him well, who shared with him the dangers and privations of the most terrific war ever waged, in order that injustice may not be done, have concluded that a brief statement of the part he bore in that tremendous struggle, might not be uninteresting to his surviving comrades here, for they all remember well that he never shrank from the discharge of any duty, and carried himself bravely through it all.

At the very beginning of the war, a sixteen year old boy, he volunteered as a private in the Davis Infantry, Co. K., of the Seventh Georgia Regiment. His regiment was ordered to Virginia. Its history, and its history is the history of the Army of Northern Virginia.

At the first battle of Manassas he stood within a few feet of Gen. Bartow when he was killed—the first sacrafice of the war. In the seven days' fight around Richmond, he was always at the post of danger and of duty. In the second battle of Manassas, he caught his brave old Colonel, W. T. Wilson, in his arms when he fell, and joined in the shout of victory that sent "Headquarters-in-the Saddle" out among the Sioux Indians to meditate upon the vicissitudes of war.

At Sharpsburg, at Fredericksburg, at Gettysburg, in every battle and skirmish in which his regiment was engaged, he took a conspicuous part. In Longstreet's murderous charge upon Knoxville, while climbing the ramparts of Fort Sanders' he was wounded three times, and disabled for life. When the siege of that place was raised, he was left in the hands of the enemy, and languished and starved eighteen months in a Yankee prison. Such was his career, and while he played his part in that awful drama he still shared, to my certain knowledge, the beggarly pittance of a soldier's wages with his widowed mother at home. When the war was over, like the rest of us, he was poor, but nothing daunted, he went resolutely to work and assisted in rearing and educating the younger members of his mothers family.

In 1870, he was nominated by the Democratic party for the office of Tax Collector of this county. When the election took place, for three bitter, freezing days and nights he stood at the polls, and kept back that army of imported negroes swindled into this town to elect Blodgett and other Radicals to office. He was elected. He has made us a capable and efficient officer. No complaints have been urged against him that I have heard of. And now, when he seeks a renomination, shall we violate the good old Democratic rule of Indorsement, and turn out of office at the end of his first term, one who fought so manfully for his country, and has labored so faithfully and zealously for his party? I say no.

The people promoted him, and I do not believe that they intend to cashier one who has conducted himself in and out of office so meritoriously.

T. H. L.

IMPROVEMENT.—A neat and substantial rock pavement is being made around Gov. Brown's building, corner Pryor and Wall streets. As the finishing touches are being placed upon this and the balance of the Republic Block, it shows more and more how much of an ornament to the city it is.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.—Mrs. Nancy C. Milton, of Ellijay, offers $300 reward for the apprehension with proof to convict the party and his accomplices who assassinated W. P. Milton, her husband, in Ellijay, on the night of the 16th of April last, by shooting him through the window of dining room while at supper.

Oak Bowery Lodge, Masons, offer an additional 500 reward.

ALL RIGHT.—A friend takes a Swedish paper from Minnesota that has taken position. It says: Vidare sager hau patal om Grant-Wilson-ska nominationen: At hyss tylfyelom seger for ett sadant partl, nar det ryeker: falt mot dot gamia slafpartiets horden ar en dodling forolampring mot det Amerikanska folket ordomes fermaga och skesing for medborgarnes skyldigeter.

That concluding allusion to the "medborgarnes skyldigheter" is the hardest thing said about Grant yet. It is awful. The next time Judge Walker addresses the colored people of Atlanta, will he tell them all about it?

WHO IS IT?—A friend writes us that the most beautiful girl in Georgia resides in a town not far from Atlanta. Her hair is of that peculiar hue that a field of ripe wheat throws towards the setting sun. Her eyes send forth a light so effulgent and magnetic that strangers become spell-bound under its influence. Her cheeks bear a bloom like the sunny side of an early peach. A pearl would almost appear black beside her teeth. Her form is so graceful that men worship her before seeing her face. Her hands suggest the idea of waxen fingers tipped with vermilion. Her smile seems actually to illuminate her presence, and when she laughs the listener fancies he hears sweet music in the distance. Poor fellow! he has it bad.

PRACTICAL JOKES.—A young gent entered the office of one of the candidates for county offices and found lying on his table an order on a merchant for a bottle of whisky. The young gent pocketed the order, sent for the whisky and drank it. It was Jim met Jim that time.

Three young gents are casting sheep's eyes in the direction of one lady fair. Recently they concluded to send her a note a piece. Two of them out of mere sport concluded to play a practical joke on their unsophisticated companion, and accordingly intercepted his note. They took his note out of the envelope, substituted a blank piece of paper, and then forwarded it. They then put his note in another envelope, and addressed it to him in a handwriting resembling that of a lady. "Phancy his pheelinks" It is now said that the young lady has been more practical in her jokes, and sent the jokists to join the slipper club.

THOMAS M. CLARKE & CO.—The handsome three-story brick store erected by this sterling firm, on the corner of Peachtree and Line streets, is an ornament to that portion of our city. It is 110 feet in length, with a front of 35 feet on Peachtree street. It cost between $15,000 and $20,000. Messrs. Clarke & Co. do a heavy wholesale trade in hardware. The basement is devoted to hollow-ware, hubs, spokes and rims, etc. A force pump supplies the entire establishment with water.

The first floor is fitted up with taste. The shelves are filled with neat boxes, with samples of the articles on the outside. Here can be found everything in the hardware line. In the rear is the counting-room and book-keeper's office, conveniently arranged. A large wareroom in the rear of this is devoted exclusively to iron, nails, etc. The second floor is also well filled with stock. A handsome front room is being fitted for a sample room. The third floor is a spacious, well ventilated hall.

We are ever pleased to chronicle the success of our enterprising merchants. By strict attention to business and sterling integrity, Messrs. Clarke & Co. have developed a big business.

CHURCH SERVICES TO-DAY.—The Rev. Mr. Leftwich has returned to the city and will occupy his pulpit in the Central Presbyterian Church morning and night.

The Rev. Dr. Harrison has also returned and will occupy his pulpit in the First Methodist Church on Peachtree street, this morning.

Atlanta, September, 1882.

MINERAL HILL SULPHUR AND ALUM SPRINGS.—Dr. J. A. Taylor, of our city, and Dr. R. A. Rouk, of Chattanooga, have bought a half interest in the justly celebrated Springs, near Bean's Station, East Tennessee. There are quite a number of springs at Mineral Hill. Twelve of them have been pronounced very valuable. Among the twelve are the Red, White and Black Sulphur water. Chalybeate, Alum, Epsom, Iron, Magnesia, Iodine, the celebrated Black Water, samples of which we have examined; the iodide of Potassium, and Arsenious Acid. Our citizens are aware of the situation Dr. Taylor has been in for months past, from disease; the waters of the last named spring have entirely restored him to health.

We regret to state that Dr. Taylor will move to Mineral Hill in October. Our meaning is, we dislike to give up so genial and pleasant a gentleman, and are only reconciled to it, from the fact that he will not move so far but that his friends can visit him Dr. T. will engage in a general mercantile business at Mineral Hill, and in connection with the company, will open the springs the 1st of May, 1873. Large contracts have been given out, so that five or six hundred persons can be accommodated at the Springs.

The Springs are situated in a valley in the mountains in Granger county, near Morristown, on the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad. The climate is delightful, and scenery unsurpassed.

AT a meeting of the Catholic congregation of this city, Rev. M. Cullman in the chair, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty, in His wisdom, to remove from amongst us by death our late beloved pastor, Rev. Father O'Reilly, whose virtues and labors had endeared him not only to us, his congregation, but to the citizens of Atlanta generally. We, therefore, in testimony of our appreciation of his many virtues, eminent abilities, and his earnest labors in the cause of religion and humanity, offer this tribute to his memory:

Resolved, That in his demise the church has lost a zealous and devoted priest, and catholicity an able and earnest advocate, Atlanta a good citizen, the land of his adoption, and its institutions a warm admirer, and the land of his birth—Ireland—a devoted and true son.

Resolved, That the thanks of the clergy and congregation are due and hereby tendered to the following named gentlemen: To Charles Bohnefeld for the use of his beautiful hearse and outfit, also free of charge.

To O H. Jones for the use of horses and carriages without limit, also free of charge.

Also, to the officers of The Western and Atlantic Railroad Company for their generosity in passing from here to Dalton, at half rates, the delegation that went to escort the remains of Father O'Reilley to this city.

To the press of Atlanta and to the citizens of other denominations, we return our sincere thanks for the many marks of kindness shown to the memory of our deceased Pastor.

M. CULLMAN, Pastor, Chairman.

A DESPERATE CHARACTER SHOT AND KILLED—ATTACK AND WOUNDING OF A POLICEMAN.—A negro named Newton Irving was arrested under two charges for disorderly conduct, and succeeded twice in escaping from the police. Policeman J. M. Stewart, learning that the negro was at a house at Summer Hill, deputized W. P. Bolin, watchman at the Cemetery, to assist him and proceeded to the place.

They were told that he was not in the house, but the negro undertook to jump out of a window. Seeing the Policeman, he went back into the house and refused to come out. Mr. Bolin effected an entrance. The negro had an axe in his hand, upraised, but put it down when Mr. Bolin ordered him to do so. Mr. Bolin arrested him and, with the Policeman, started up the street. After they had gone some distance, Newton started to run across the street, when Policeman Stewart told him to stop. He then drew a knife with a blade some five inches in length, when Policeman Stewart tapped him on the head with his club. A shot was fired about this time by some unknown party, taking effect in the right side of the negro.

Policeman Stewart immediately started for assistance, and on his return with policeman Pennick found Mr Bolin surrounded by a crowd of fifteen or twenty negroes, who had him up against a fence choking him. Mr. Bolin was struck on the head by them with a slung shot or some thing else. The crowd turned him over to Policeman Stewart, requesting his arrest.

Both Messrs. Bolin and Stewart deny firing at the negro who was wounded. The ball took effect one inch below, and two inches to the right of the right nipple, inflicting a mortal wound.

Newton died about 12 M. yesterday. Before death he made a "dying declaration" before Justice Sasseen that he was shot by a cripple man whose name he did not know and not by the policeman on his left.

Warrants were issued before Newton's death against J. M. Stewart and W. P. Bolin, charging them with assault with intent to murder, and they were arrested. Coroner W. Kile held a coroner's inquest over the body of the deceased, and the jury rendered a verdict that he came to his death from a pistol ball in the right side, fracturing the eighth rib, passing obliquely into the body and from a wound over the right eye.

Dr. E. J. Roach certified that his death resulted from the causes stated in the verdict.

Both cases were set down for a hearing on to-morrow at the Court House at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Thrasher & Thrasher, for the prosecution; S. B. Spencer and J. A. Stephens, for defendant.

ONLY A WHILE.

Only a little while to work,
And a long, long time to rest,
Then drive the cloud from the aching brow,
The sigh from the troubled breast.

Up! with a strong and hopeful heart;
Up! with a sunny face;
Shoulder your troubles cheerfully—
Bear it with patient grace.

Only a while the feet must bleed
And the burdened back must bend;
Suffer in silence, and silently
Help others who suffer, friend.

Only a while our tears must drip
Drop after drop like rain;
And our lips grow white with the pain of the heart,
The very god of pain.

Only a very little while,
As short as the going down
Of the setting sun, to meekly bear
The cross and the thorny crown.

Only a while to watch and pray,
And a long, long time to praise;
Our God, the Father, knoweth best,
Then question not his ways.

Only a little while to sow,
And a long, long time to reap;
Let's sow in faith with an open hand,
And tares from the good seed keep.

Only a little while to lose,
All Eternity to find,
The jewels death has robbed us of—
The friends we will leave behind.

Only a while to trim our lamps
Ere the Bridegroom passeth by;
Then fill them well with the oil of Love,
Let the flame rise pure and high.

Only a while—what matters it
If our life will be short or long?
If we only sing a few faint notes
Or the whole of the changing song?

The missing notes will all be found,
And the song be wholly sung
In Heaven, where God's own hands will tune
The harps he has unstrung.

New Orleans, September 24.

Religious Information.

Rev. Hugh Miller Brown, the Liverpool sensationalist, used to be a railroad engineer.

The Presbyterian Church, North, in 1871, baptized 8,585 adults, and 17,420 children.

The first Congregational house of worship in the State of Alabama has been built.

Canadian Presbyterians make the most of what they have. Of their 300 ministers not one is without his charge.

The prospects of reunion in the Presbyterian Church in Kentucky and other sections of the South are not promising.

The first Sunday School established in this country, it is said, was in Pittsburg, Penn., in 1809, by Rev. Mr. Steele, an Irish clergyman.

Forty clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in New York city have no parochial charge.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, North, baptized 65,770 adults, and 54,517 children in 1871.

A number of American churches have called ministers from the British realm, and others are on the lookout for pastors from abroad.

John Wesley preached 42,000 sermons at the rate of fifteen a week. Mr. Wesley never had a clergyman's sore throat, or a year's leave of absence, with all expenses paid.

The Boston Young Men's Christian Association have purchased, for $125,000, the estate on the corner of Tremont and Elliott streets.

Bishop Harris, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is still hard at work on the new "Discipline," the last pages of which will soon pass through the press.

The Jewish Messenger recommends the erection of a rustic synagogue at Long Branch, as so many wealthy Jews spend one-fourth of the year at that place of fashionable resort.

An enterprise is now under way to raise $100,000, with which to establish in Columbia, Tenn., under Presbyterian auspices, an institution for female education of the very highest order.

The Presbyterian Board of Home Missions is in debt to its missionaries $15,000, and wants the 1,500 churches which gave nothing last year for home missons to send $10 each to clear off the debt.

There are in Buffalo eight Presbyterian churches to a population of 150,000, and eight in Rochester to a population of 65,000. There are 3,279 members in the Rochester Presbyterian churches to 2,478 in Buffalo.

The Episcopal Church, at its organization, in Louisiana, in 1838, numbered 150 communicants. This year the number is reported at 3,655, an increase of 510 over the year previous, and this without any gain by emigration.

The three great forms of faith in the christian world are represented by the three sovereigns at Berlin. The Emperor of Germany is a Protestant; the Emperor of Austria is a Roman Catholic; and the Emperor of Russia is of the Greek Church.

A volume has just appeared in England entitled "A Voice from the Black Pews to the Pulpit and Front Seats, etc., by a Back-Pewman." The book is written in a very reverential spirit. The object is, in the author's own words, "to put Moses above Milton and Jesus Christ above Paul."

During the last three years the United Church has raised $27,624,353, of which $6,888,627 were for general benevolence and $20,000,000 for pastors' salaries, churches, etc. The additions to the churches, however, have fallen short of those of the reunion year.

According to statistical reports, published by the Consistory of Brandenburg, twenty-four Jews were baptized during the last year, while three Christians embraced Judaism—one in Berlin, the others in Potsdam and Frankfort. In Magdeburg five Christians were converted to the Jewish religion.

Don Gong, of China, embraced the Christian religion in California, and when he returned to his native land, his pagan father stripped and whipped him and threw him into the nearest pond. Then some women held the old man while some men fished out the unhappy Don Gong.

Hyacinthe, who was married on Tuesday, spoke in 1866 these beautiful words about marriage: "I open humanity's book, the Bible, it commences with the history of the family from the cradles of Eden to the tents of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of all the pages of human records this is without controversy the sweetest and most sublime."

God is never in a hurry. It comes of our unbelief in Him that we are so apt to be in a hurry. He that believeth should not make haste. If we look at the history of the material world, or the intellectual world, or the social world, nothing is clearer than that God never was in a hurry, and that He can afford to wait.

When her Majesty, Queen Victoria, was taken to task by a right reverend, years ago, for having Channing's works on her table, and her Majesty asked "why not?" the ecclesiastic unsuspectingly replied that they contained very objectionable passages. "Ah!" retorted the gracious sovereign, "I perceive you are before me in having read them."

The property of the Presbyterian Churches in Philadelphia is worth, according to the census, $4,155,000, to which $1,000,000 should be added for the Presbyterian Publication House, the Presbyterian Hospital, the Mission House in Arch street, and other property. The debt on all the churches is estimated at $500,000. They will seat 51,000 worshippers.

The Rev. Mr. Chamberlain, pastor of the New England Congregational Church in Chicago, says that only one leaf of his pulpit Bible was found in the ruins of his church and that was so burned that only this verse was legible: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Several Chinamen were lately proposed for membership to the Third Congregational Church of San Francisco, and though no objections were made to their faith nor their experience, yet the Church, by a vote of 43 to 38, refused to accept them to Church-fellowship, whereupon the Pastor, Rev. W. C. Pond, resigned. The Congregationalist asks, "What do the dissenters propose to do with Chinamen who are so unfortunate, we were about to say, as to become Christians there?"

In 1642, the first regular Presbytery of Ireland met at Carrickfergus. Five ministers and four elders were present. Nineteen years later, in spite of persecution, the number of ministers had increased to seventy. In 1840, by the union of the Synod of Ulster with the old Secession church, the General Assembly of Ireland was formed, having under its care 433 congregations. This year the number of congregations is reported at 532, with 600 ministers, 112,000 communicants, 1,100 Sabbath Schools, and 66,000 Sabbath Scool scholars. The total income of the church this year amounted to $585,-000; the sustentation fund to $113,000.

Reading Notices.

AVOID THE PERILS OF THE SEASON.—Autumn, although the most radiant portion of the American year, has its drawbacks. The heavy evening dews and morning vapors and the great disparity in temperature between the night and day, give rise to many painful disturbances of the bowels, such as colic, cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. The digestive organs are also unfavorably affected by the change of season, and dyspeptics generally suffer most severely during the fall. Derangements of the liver are likewise common, and miasmatic fevers prevail in newly-settled districts and low-lying and marshy localities. These unpleasant contingencies of the season are not, however, unavoidable. By strengthening, toning and regulating the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters even the most delicate may escape them. At the expiration of summer all the bodily powers are in a somewhat exhausted state. They require the wholesome stimulation which this genial vegetable invigorant supplies. Under its renovating influence the nervous energy which the wilting heat of July and August had kept in abeyance or partially extinguished, crops out afresh; the flaccid muscles recover their elasticity; the appetite takes a sharper edge; the processes of digestion and assimilation become more rapid and perfect; the spirits rise, and the whole organization acquires its maximum of activity and resistant power. Even persons of comparatively feeble constitutions, when thus fortified against the perils of the season, will have little cause to fear a visitation from any of the disorders to which we have referred. As a protection against miasmatic fevers and all epidemics engendered by malaria Hostetter's Bitters may be justly pronounced not only unrivaled but unapproached. Look well to the label and trade mark, as there are many counterfeits and imitations in the market. sept10 deod1w&w1t.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT. A sallow or yellow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness with frequent headache; dizziness, bitter or bad taste in mouth, dryness of throat and internal heat; palpitation, in many cases a dry, teasing cough, with sore throat; unsteady appetite, a raising of food, and a choking sensation in throat; distress, heaviness, or bloated or full feeling about stomach and sides, pain in sides, back or breast, and about shoulders; colic pain and soreness through bowels, with heat; constipation, alternating with frequent attacks of diarrhœa; piles, flatulence, nervousness, coldness of extremities; rush of blood to head, with symptoms of apoplexy, numbness of limbs, especially at night; cold chills alternating with hot flashes, kidney and urinary difficulties; female weakness and irregularities, with dullness, low spirits, unsociability and gloomy forebodings. Only a few of the above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. All who use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for liver complaint and its complications are loud in its praise. Sold by all druggists everywhere. sept10-deod1w&w1t.

AN ESSENTIAL OF LOVELINESS.—To be entirely beautiful the hair should be abundant and lustrous. This is absolutely essential to complete loveliness. The most regular features, the most brilliant complexion and pearliest teeth fail of their due effect if the hair be thin, dry, or harsh. On the contrary the plainest face, if it be but surmounted by luxuriant and silken tresses, is apt to impress the beholder with a sense of actual beauty. That crowning ornament of her sex is, happily, within the reach of lovely woman, and being as discriminating as she is lovely, she long ago discovered that Lyon's Kathairon was the sure means of securing it. No preparation for the hair ever enjoyed a tithe of its popularity, and no wonder, since it produces such gratifying results. Applied to the waste and barren places of the scalp, it fructifies and enriches them with a new and ample growth. It is not, of course, pretended that it will do this if the capacity for reproduction is extinct, but so long as it remains that wonderful rehabilitant will assuredly propagate the germ of the hair into life and activity. sept10-deod1w&w1t.

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, New York. oct2—d1y

HARMLESS AS SUMMER DEW, yet in the highest degree disinfectant and preservative Sozodont keeps the teeth always healthy and spotless, and the gums ruddy and free from canker. sept10-deod1w&w1t.

DR TUTT'S Hair Dye is warranted harmless; leaves no ridiculous tints; imparts a natural glossy color to Whiskers, Hair and Moustache. sept10-deod1w&w1t.

BLESSINGS brighten as they take their flight. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having; it is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but too often not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all arising from impure or feeble blood, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance. sep13—d&w4w

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a most powerful Tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plan and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your Liver and Spleen? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, etc., etc.

Take JURUBEBA to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the blood, dropsical tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

Have you a weakness of the Intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhœa or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? You must procure instant relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.
JOHN Q. KELLOGG, 18 Platt st., New York, Sole Agent for the United States.

SHALER'S PATENT

for the CAMPAIGN of 1872, is a striking novelty in the torch line. The burning fluid being contained in the packing, prevents all danger of dripping and soiling the clothing, and is perfectly safe in handling. By blowing through a tube in the handle is thrown three feet into the air, producing a beautiful and startling effect, and illuminating a wide area. This torch is cheaper and handier than any other, and costs to burn only two or three cents per night. Manufactured and sold by S. M. AIKMAN & CO, 261 Pearl street, New York, Manufacturers of Ship, R. R. and Hand Lanterns.
